

SUMMARY OF STUDY

A Report on the Efficacy of Public Education Efforts on Citizen Understanding of Watershed Protection. 2010. Harris County. Harris County surveyed residents of Lakewood Oaks Estates Subdivision (LOE) in 2007 and 2010. In 2008, the County conducted an intense public education campaign designed to increase LOE residents' awareness of watershed protection issues. The results from the pre-education survey were compared to the results from the post-effort, the level of interest and awareness of watershed protection issues is largely unchanged.
