

SUMMARY OF STUDY

Industrial Wastewater Study. 2009. AECOM. Examines wastewater discharges from 6 industrial facilities. It finds that some industrial plants can contribute significant bacteria loadings, suggesting that further research is warranted and challenges the assumption that industrial plants with little or no sanitary waste stream pose no concern related to the discharge of bacteria.